Marche Heroique

Kevin Kaisershot

THE WORK: This work was written to honor William C. Tripp who was a good friend and colleague of the composer before his untimely passing. He was an inspiration and “hero” to many young music students in the all too brief time he was with us. He was a man of many talents - keyboard, vocals and trumpet and many times was able to do several at once. Beyond that he was a role model for his students as well as many adults.

PERFORMANCE TIPS: Each voice in this piece has at some point or another the opportunity to “lead.” With that in mind the leader/speaker should be allowed to do so with the others paying attention (i.e. providing support but not overshadowing the leader) The tempo should remain steady throughout as all voices in the piece are of a collective thought and do not distance themselves from the other two. The technical demands are few but consistent precision is vital.

This work is part of a growing series of original pieces by this talented composer. Many of these titles are already found on contest lists throughout the country.

These like-instrument ensemble works are designed to be performed by junior high and high school level musicians. They are ideal for use in festivals and competitions as well as in concerts, church services and other special events. All pieces are melodically and rhythmically creative with all parts being interesting and suitable in difficulty. (Easy-Medium, Medium)

Besides their use as like-instrument pieces, they are all interchangeable and will work with any combination of the brass or woodwind instruments (flute, clarinet, saxophone, horn, trumpet, trombone and tuba). This means that any non-standard combinations of instruments will have access to these terrific works.

Other titles in this series:

Elegy, Scherzo Diabolique, Novelette, Danse a la Gigue, Modern Day Madrigal, Rondeau Gracieuse, Moments Majestique and Musical Tag.
